ARLINGTON FIREMAN RESCUES THREE AS CAR DIVES IN CANAL

Jack Beasley of Engine 2 Company Helps Williams town Trio From Death-Trap As Car Plunges Into North Adams Canal Yesterday Afternoon—Man In Hospital—Arlington Fireman Praised for Work—Suffers No Ill Effects From Experience

Jack Beasley, well known member of Engine 2 company at the Arlington Heights fire station, helped rescue two men and a woman from a mill canal in North Adams late yesterday afternoon. The three rescued persons were riding in a sedan automobile which crashed through a railing, went over an embankment into seven feet of water. John B. Locke, 76 of Williams town, his son, Harry and daughter, Mrs. Patrick J. Keefe were the occupants of the car which left the state highway. Coming up just a few cars behind, the Arlington fireman saw the car as it dropped. He quickly applied his brakes and ran to the shore. The Locke car had overturned and only six inches of air space were left for breathing. The trapped trio was frantically trying to get out when Beasley reached the car. In the meanwhile, two policemen arrived and with the aid of Beasley, they pried open the automobile door by means of an iron pipe. Water rose up to the rescuers' chests while their work was going on. They finally managed to get the two men out of the rear of the auto and to help the woman out of the front door. Mr. Locke, senior, was paralyzed from the hips down and was rushed to a hospital in North Adams. Beasley, the local fireman who was on his way to Arlington from Williamstown when he helped rescue the three victims, returned home last night. Although he was soaked thoroughly, he has not felt any ill effects and was able to be on duty today.

FLOWER GARDENS WILL MARK ANNIVERSARY OF GEORGE WASHINGTON

Schools and garden clubs all over the country are joining enthusiasm in a movement to plant flower gardens this spring as part of the celebration in honor of the George Washington Bicentennial. This is being done in several ways, according to the Information Division of the United States Department of Agriculture, which is sponsoring the activity. Many Arlington gardeners will plant flowers which will bloom year after year to remind future generations of this great patriotic nation-wide celebration. Back yards and small garden plots will bloom with Colonial flowers as an outdoor manifestation of what this year means to Americans. The Department of Agriculture is cooperating wholeheartedly in this movement by preparing lists of flowers and shrubs which were familiar in Colonial days. It is possible to plant Ivy at your own home from slips taken at Mount Vernon. Tourists and visitors to this national shrine avail themselves of the opportunity to purchase little pots of Ivy at the entrance gate. To insure the amateur gardener of the most attractive results, certain seeds may be planted in the open ground where the plants are to grow. Those that SHOULD BE SOWN EARLY in that way are: Alyssum, California poppy, candytuft, cornflower, forget-me-not, mignonette, nemophila, Drummond phlox, sunflower, poppy, and sweet alyssum. Among those that SHOULD BE SOWN LATE in this manner after the ground is warm are the castor bean, sorghum, milo, feterita, Indian corn garden balsam, portulaca, and four-o'clock.

Time Prize In Hub Race Won By Local Man

Although he reached the finish line in 37th place, Johnny Kelley, Arlington marathoner won the time prize in the Cathedral Y. M. C. A. 10-mile grind in Boston last Saturday afternoon. The local man ran under the North Medford club colors and was the only contestant to start from scratch. All other runners receiving generous handicaps. Kelley's was the fastest actual jaunt and he received a big hand for his good work. Kelley winner of the St. Joe's race, covered the course in the better-than-fair time of 53m 38s, only two minutes over Jimmy Henigan's record time of 1917. Nevertheless, Johnny was only 37th, which shows that the pack, generally speaking, was fast—too fast for his handicaps. Bill Malloy, also of the North Medford Club, and Bob Dalmyple of the Boston Athletic Association, were second and third on their corrected times, though they finished only 22d and 31st.

Lowder plays either guard or forward equally well. While at Arlington High school Mr. Lowder played for four years on the Arlington High quintet, was elected captain of the team in his senior year, and also captain of cross-country at Arlington.

With the Arlington Homemaker

So many of our readers are dieting either from choice or necessity that we have almost overlooked the desserts which some of the thinner members of society crave and use on their menus for the nourishing part of the meal. We are learning new things every day about the use of our mechanical refrigerators and so many are still in the experimental stage with frozen desserts that a few up-to-the-minute recipes for desserts may not be amiss. Marlow has been called, by someone, second cousins to the mousses because they both use gelatine as their stiffening agent. The difference being that in the case of marlow, gelatine is introduced by means of marshmallows. There are just two things to remember in the preparation of this particular type of dessert. First to always melt the marshmallows over hot water and second to be sure that the foundation is allowed to stiffen slightly before the cream is added. Pineapple Marlow 1 cup crushed canned pineapple 2 cups water 3-4 cup mashed banana 1/2 pint whipping cream Steam the marshmallows with the water until melted. Add banana pulp and lemon juice; cool. Add beaten cream when mixture is slightly stiff and freeze without stirring. Banana Marlow 15 marshmallows 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice 1/2 cup water 3-4 cup mashed banana 1/2 pint whipping cream Steam the marshmallows with the water until melted. Add banana pulp and lemon juice; cool. Add beaten cream when mixture is slightly stiff and freeze without stirring. Evaporated milk may be used as a substitute for whipped cream by scalding the contents of a can of evaporated milk and thoroughly chilling in the refrigerator. Woman Who Was Struck and Knocked Down by Mail Truck Ten Days Ago, Died Yesterday—Manslaughter Charge Against Driver—Burial of Accident Victim Tomorrow Morning—Death is Second As Result of Accidents On April 1

Mrs. Edith Mooers, of 34 Grafton street, Arlington, died at Symmes Arlington Hospital, yesterday morning at 7:35 o'clock, as the result of injuries received when struck and knocked down by a mail truck in this town on April 1. The victim of the accident had been rushed to the hospital in the police ambulance by patrolman Thomas R. Pigott and John Roche. Her name was placed on the danger list and although hopes were held for her recovery, her condition became more serious just prior to her death. According to the report made to police headquarters Mrs. Mooers was walking in front of the East Arlington post office, on Massachusetts avenue and Orvis road, when a United States mail truck, operated by Warren Trimble, 393 Salem street, Medford struck and knocked her down. The driver was about to back up to the sidewalk to leave mail at the post office at the time. Trimble was unaware of Mrs. Mooers' presence and she was unable to get out of the way, to escape being struck by the vehicle. The woman was thrown to the ground but the operator applied the brakes before the wheels could run over her body. She was picked up and rushed to the hospital where it was discovered that the victim was suffering from internal injuries. Sergeant Thomas F. Meagher, Jr., conducted a police investigation and as a result of the fatality an inquest will be held and the police will apply to the Third District court of East Cambridge for a warrant charging Trimble, the driver of the mail truck, with manslaughter. This is a technical charge. The funeral of Mrs. Mooers will be held from her late home, 34 Grafton street, tomorrow morning with services in the Trinity Baptist Church at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. Gordon E. Bigelow will officiate. Burial will be in Eastlawn cemetery, Williamstown, Massachusetts. The accident victim was born in North Adams, sixty years ago and resided in Arlington nineteen years. She was a member of the Arlington Woman's Club and the Auxiliary of the O. R. C. She is survived by her husband, Chellis T. Mooers, a son, Leland F. Howe Mooers, and two sisters Mrs. Addie Sherman and Miss Sadie A. Handy. Mrs. Mooers' death was the second which resulted from accidents in Arlington on April 1. Andrew Gonnaris, sixty-six-year-old candy merchant of 47 Varnum street, Arlington, was killed by two street cars on Massachusetts avenue the same day.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY MEETS

The Holy Name society of St. Agnes' Church met last evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament followed the meeting.

Society Girls No Longer Lotus-Eaters

Debutantes Show Preference for Earning Own Living. Photos, Once Featured in Society Gossip, Now Embellished on Advertising Pages.

Tired of pampered society life, many debutantes, whose names are prominent in the Social Register, are turning to business, finding it more fun to earn their own living. Fashionable millinery salons, gift shops and cosmetic stores are three of the most popular branches of commerce in which they engage. Strangely, despite their lack of previous experience, most of these blue-blood shop-keepers are making a success of their venture into the field of barter and mart. Many debts have turned to other occupations. Theresa Townsend, whose face looked out at the reader from society gossip columns of newspapers every time she attended a ball, aided the Junior League or participated in a charity function, now gets paid for having her photo in the papers. Theresa has become a successful advertising model. Her face beams at you from flamboyant posters extolling the virtues of soaps and face creams and her trim figure in the fashion pages displays next season's styles in frocks and evening gowns. Another bud who has made good, even before her formal debut, is Elizabeth Furness, who is in great demand as a model wherever beauty, poise and youth are needed for illustration. Elizabeth is only 16 and has planned an ambitious career, the pinnacle of which is screen stardom. Maybe Elizabeth's ambition was spurred by the success of Betty Gillette, society girl of Delagaston, L. I., who recently went to Hollywood under contract to one of the big film companies, with stardom looming in the offing.

Kelleher Specifies Qualifications For Collector's Office

The aldermen of Medford are in receipt of another communication from James L. Kelleher, of St. Francis street, Medford, candidate for the position of City Collector, as recommended by Mayor Burke, specifying his qualifications for the position and containing recommendations from officials under whom he was employed in the past. Mr. Kelleher has also forwarded copies to the editor of the Mercury, which are published below:

Gentlemen:—In order that you may have knowledge of me as a candidate for the position of City Collector, as recommended by His Honor, the Mayor, I am submitting for your information the following brief history of my experience and education:—

I was born in Charlestown, educated in the Frothingham Grammar and Charlestown High Schools and the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance from which latter school I was graduated in 1924 with a very high rating. I took two post graduate courses in that institution following my graduation. The curriculum of studies as taught the pupils of the Bentley School covers all phases of accountancy from single entry bookkeeping to income tax and includes the preparation of financial statements, audits, probate work, system building, office management and statistical reports.

I was employed at the Boston Navy Yard for fifteen years, terminating my services in January, 1930, when, due to dismemberment of the naval work was reduced to its lowest ebb and my position was declared vacant. During my time at the Boston Navy Yard I was Supervisor of the Piece Work Department and Assistant to the New Work Superintendent, Commander H. L. Vickery. My work entailed the computation of all piece work rates and the administration of the same, as I was in direct charge of the general office and had three sub field offices under my jurisdiction. All payroll reports and statistics were made or approved by me. I was for many years representative of the iron crafts on the Wage Board. This board decided all questions relative to wages and hours of labor and my work necessitated my making frequent trips as a representative of the yard employees to Washington to sit in conference with the Wage Adjustment Board.

After leaving the Boston Navy Yard, I was employed as an auditor by the Colonial-Beacon Oil Company until a little over one year ago, when, owing to the business depression, the forces were reduced and I am now employed as a salesman by that company.

For any references regarding my work, I respectfully refer you to the following gentlemen:—

Commander Howard L. Vickery, Construction Corps, U. S. N., c/o Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

James L. Carroll, Master Mechanic, Navy Yard, Boston, Mass.

E. J. Poynter, Asst. Supt., Navy Yard, Boston, Mass.

Harry C. Bentley, President, Bentley School of Accounting and Finance, 921 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

Yours truly,

James L. Kelleher

255 St. Francis street, Medford, Mass.

To Whom it may concern:—

Mr. J. L. Kelleher of Medford has worked with me and under my supervision at the Navy Yard,

Hymanson And Story Elected Tufts Captains

Harry Hymanson of Lynn, guard on the Tufts varsity basketball team for two seasons, was elected captain of the hoop team for 1932-33 at the annual winter sports dance, held in Goddard gymnasium last night. At the same time it was announced that Winthrop Story of Plymouth, New England, collegiate 165 pound champion, was elected to head the varsity wrestlers.

William Smythe of Malden was named manager of basketball. Hymanson is a member of Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity. He received his early training in basketball at Lynn English High and later at Goddard Seminary. He played on the freshman team, and was a regular on the varsity quintet in his sophomore and junior years.

Story, a junior in the engineering school, had a successful season on the mat, although an injury early in the season kept him out of competition for a month. He closed the year with a bang by winning the New England college crown in his class.

Boston, from Nov. 1915 to January, 1930.

During that time he worked under my supervision for two years as a helper and shipper and he was then promoted to Piece Work Office as Piece Work Counter about March, 1918. The latter part of 1918 he was promoted to Head Piece Work Counter and continued in that position until 1929 when owing to lack of sufficient work the Piece Work Office was abolished and he was then re-employed by me as a shipper and was discharged for lack of work in January, 1930.

Mr. Kelleher from 1915 to 1930 was a faithful and industrious worker, his workmanship and conduct during that time was satisfactory.

The work in the Piece Work Office consisted of interpreting and applying the piece work prices and required a man of tact and exceptional ability to keep things running smoothly. Mr. Kelleher was very successful in doing this.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) J. L. Carroll

Death Record By Autos On The Decrease Last Week

In his comment of the record of automobile accidents in the state during the past week, Registrar of Motor Vehicles Morgan T. Ryan said:

"Although eight deaths in one week due to the operation of motor vehicles is eight too many, I am pleased to report that that number is less than the fatalities in the corresponding week of last year. There were only two child victims this week, as compared with six a year ago. Moreover, Boston again has the enviable distinction of being free from the list."

The record shows one more killed than in the previous week and nine less than in the corresponding week a year ago.

"Among the five pedestrians killed," Registrar Ryan says, "one was the victim of a speeding hit-and-run driver. One was walking along the road and struck from behind. One child ran out from between parked cars; another, only 3 years old, was playing in the street. Two more motorists died while trying to take curves at high speed, and one backed his car onto railroad tracks directly in front of an approaching train."

"That killing of children at play should warn our motorists that with the return of Spring weather there will be more little ones running about playing games, bicycling and roller-skating. We cannot expect them to give up their outdoor games and recreations. Hence drivers, whether on business or pleasure hunt, must remember that the lives and safety of the children are indefinitely more important than any mere saving of time."

Fewer "Tipsy" Drivers

Sixty-four persons were convicted last week for operating while under the influence of liquor, two less than in the preceding week. Eight were committed to jail, five from district courts and three from Superior Courts. Nine persons were convicted for the second time within six years in district courts for operating while under the influence of liquor. Six were given jail sentences and appealed, and three were committed to jail.

There were 1157 licenses and registrations suspended or revoked last week, 148 more than in the week before and 28 more than in the same period last year. Of these, 8 were for driving after drinking intoxicating liquor, and 772 on account of insurance cancellations.

FISH

They told us that a certain growth on Sweet Pond spacious b-d. Brought that queer taste into the mouth.

In homes, through pipes of lead, The fish of course was not to blame. But still its taste was there. And like a proud and quillless name, It lived through days of care.

The taint at last has disappeared. By treatment that it had. The drinking water now is cleared. And everyone is glad.

The fish in honor thus may swim. The verdict made it free: Which proves that justice comes to them Where innocence may be.

And you will join with us we know. In our most fervent wish, That water never more will show, The taste suggesting fish.

New Ford Seen By Thousands At Salesrooms

Widely heralded through full page advertisements in the Mercury, the new Ford V-8, Henry Ford's supreme achievement, was presented for the first public showing in Medford on Saturday morning at the display rooms of both local Ford distributors, Teel Mfg. Co. and the J. H. Motor Sales Co.

From the time the new models were placed on display a steady stream of visitors flowed through the local Ford showrooms. The new car was received at the Teel Company at 6 o'clock Friday evening, and immediately displayed. So great was the rush of visitors that evening that the Teel showroom remained open until 2 o'clock Saturday morning, in order to accommodate all who wished to inspect the car. This rush of visitors continued throughout Saturday and Sunday, and an official of the Ford organization estimated that between 6,000 and 7,000 persons have visited the local showrooms between Friday night and Monday morning.

At the office of the J. H. Motor Sales Company it was stated that 6,000 friends and visitors have inspected the new Ford V-8 at the J. H. salesrooms, in the past two days. The entire sales organization participated in the display, explaining the many improvements and innovations in the new model. John Hovey, head of the J. H. organization, states that the new Fords have created an unprecedented interest on the part of the motoring public.

Half Million Mark Near In War Against Depression Drive

The half million mark appears to be only a few days away in the War Against Depression Campaign's drive to obtain employment for a million wage earners, according to reports pouring into the New York headquarters of the movement, it was revealed. In sixty-six communities in twenty-five states, fifty-one of which were "first-time" job getters, work was found for 7,555 men and women, increasing the total number obtained to date to 451,802, headquarters reported.

The War Against Depression Campaign is being carried on by the United Action for Employment of the American Legion, the American Federation of Labor, the Association of National Advertisers and the Legion Auxiliary together with thousands of other organizations with a membership of more than 23,000,000.

At least one city in the State of New York is unaffected with an unemployment condition, headquarters was told. That city is Locust Valley, which has every one of its heretofore jobless on the job.

The cigar and kindred tobacco products are enjoying increased business in some sections is brought out by the fact that the Capertea Cigar Co., of Atlanta, Ga., has taken on fifteen more persons. Likewise, the soap business for the Colgate Palmolive Peet Co., in Port Huron, Mich., added sixteen people to its staff.

Among the industrial firms that have taken on additional wage earners are the Pope Manufacturing Co., of Washington, Ga., which notified New York headquarters that 38 men had been added to the payroll there; The Standard Oil Co., of Kansas, which added 39 persons to its Neodesha, plant. Railroads, aiding the movement in yesterday's report, included the Union Pacific which added a thousand men in Nebraska, on spring maintenance, which includes track work, bridges and building construction. In Utah, the Utah Railway and the Union Pacific road added thirty-five men to their payrolls.

"Rochester Plan" canvasses in Freeport, L. I., put 150 men and women to work and raised pledges for an additional $62,000 worth of work with pledges of $27,000 and at Charleston, W. Va., $73,406 have been pledged in addition to some 100 wage earners back on payrolls. At Catart, N. J., an additional ten men were put to work on state highway construction there.

McShane Brilliant In First Medford High Grid Scrimmage

Former Tigers' Backfield Ace Runs Back Kick-off For Touchdown — Passes and Kicks Well — Young Andy McLeod Placed At Quarterback On Team A — Coach Hubba Collins Conditioning Team For Scrimmage With Beverly This Week

Coach Hubba Collins sent his Medford High football candidates through a long scrimmage session on Saturday morning as the spring training practice began in earnest. A tentative lineup named Team A scored several touchdowns on the Team B collection line.

The outstanding player of the scrimmage was "Brother" McShane, former Tigers' star, who has been shifted by Coach Collins from right end to the backfield. McShane played halfback for the Tigers but reported as an end when the candidates were called out last Monday. Because of his kicking and passing ability Collins feels that he will be more useful behind the line.

Once during the scrimmage McShane ran a kick-off back 90 yards for a touchdown. His long passes paved the way for several other long runs. He looks good as the successor to Frank Hasley as the team's leading punter.

To Scrimmage Beverly

Coach Collins is keeping the boys on the go every day and whipping them into shape rapidly. His spring drills have been cut a week short by the bad weather and he must jam in the entire program he had arranged. The boys are gradually getting accustomed to the new rules and hope to have them well learned when the scrimmage with Beverly takes place this week.

The Team A lineup had Bob Hudson and Donald "Duke" Farum, ends; Art Collyup and Joe Curran, tackles; John Correia and Joe DeGregorio, guards; Vinnie Bowen, center; Andy McLeod, quarterback; Brother McShane and Captain George Sacco, halfbacks; and Phil Warren, fullback.

Of the above group Sacco and Warren were the only regulars last fall. Curran, Collyup, Hudson and Farum were substitutes who were used in almost every game. McShane and Correia were with the Tigers. McLeod and DeGregorio are newcomers while Bowen was a member of the squad two seasons ago. He was not in school last year.

McLeod, Pint-Sized Lad

McLeod is a little fellow, just about the size of Jimmy McDonaggle, the lad who barked the signals for the Blue and White last fall. He shapes up like a veteran in practice but has had no experience to speak of. He is eager to learn and Collins is giving him much attention.

Industry Doing Its Part To Aid The Unemployed

Railroads, industrial plants, city and road construction, beautification and modernization are aiding the War Against Depression Campaign in its drive to obtain employment for a million wage earners. It was revealed at the Hotel Baltimore, New York headquarters of the movement.

The War Against Depression Campaign is carrying on the United Action for Employment of the American Legion, the American Federation of Labor, the Association of National Advertisers and the Legion Auxiliary together with thousands of other organizations with a membership of more than 23,000,000.

SHOULD YOU ADVERTISE?

Neither the remembered madness of boom times nor the equally hysterical gloominess of depression psychology dismays the leaders in the advertising field.Here is the head of a great advertising agency declaring that sound advertising will always hold its own.Here is a well-known writer declaring that an effective depression cure would be the replacing of banking-minded executives by advertising-minded executives.Here is L. H. Bristol, president of the Association of National Advertisers, telling a group of students of advertising that "there is no way to divorce advertising from selling; they are each an integral part of the other."Not long ago, President Wilfred W. Fry of N. W. Ayer and Son, on one of his rather rare appearances before an audience, told the alumni of the Wharton School of Business of the University of Pennsylvania that he did not fear the new roads along which American business must travel or the higher speeds it must attain, but that "advertising always should be considered as a business enterprise and not as a magic formula for unearned success." In other words—The goods advertised must be right, and satisfy human need and desire. They must be placed where those who are intended to use them may procure them easily. The advertising to be truly successful must be sound; its sincerity must be evident; there must be the ring of truth in the written word, the reasonable statement, the actual description.One of our fundamental troubles, in the opinion of Mr. Kenneth M. Goode, is that we have too much of the banking mind and not enough of the advertising mind in the control of business. Perhaps it is too late to do anything about this present depression, but, suggests Mr. Goode in Advertising and Selling—Might we not even try to avoid the next depression by putting advertising-minded men in charge of big business? By "advertising-minded" men I mean who, above all else, believe1. That things are made for people to buy.
2. That things can be made that people will buy.
3. That things can be arranged—and kept—so that people can buy.Speaking of advertising and the depression, the editor of Advertising and Selling recalls that—The late William Wrigley, Jr., was the greatest depression merchandise the business world has ever known. Not only did he continue his customary advertising space during periods of economic collapse, but he also seized upon these occasions as the best time to enter new markets, to bring out new products, or to try unusual selling methods.And Mr. Wrigley, as The Wall Street Journal retells the story, "was once asked why he did not stop advertising after he had built up the world's largest chewing-gum business. 'Did you ever hear of trainmen taking off the locomotive after they had got the train moving?' asked Wrigley." (From the Literary Digest)Bowling League

Elderly Man Found Here Is
Lynn ResidentAn elderly man, believed to be John Cashman of Lynn, was found in Medford square yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Dwyer and after questioning, police endeavored to establish his identity.
He gave the name of Sam Sullivan, said he was 77 years old, and that his home was at 47 Derby street, Salem. Police notified Salem police but efforts to establish identity in that city failed. There was no such party at the address given.
Late last night Lynn police notified Medford that a man named John Cashman was missing from that city and they believed the man in Medford might be he. As the man had been taken to the City Home and was asleep for the night, he was not disturbed. Lynn officers said they would send relatives to Medford today. The description of the man found here and the missing Lynn man tallied.

a From Dorothea

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
Did you have any April fool jokes played on you? I got only one on me and it didn't succeed.
My brother gave me a piece of "candy," all wrapped up nice, but it proved to be soap.By the way do you know if that little group that "Mail" got together is going to meet again?
If you know, please let me know.Patriot's day is coming soon, isn't it? It's the 19th. (As though you didn't know when it was.) All the school children think of it is that they have a week off.
But I think we should set apart a day to honor "The True American."I wish we lived near the Arlington cemetery so we could visit the graves of those great men. But we aren't, so that's off. I hope, though I don't think, that the Mayor, or whoever takes care of the parades, will have one.I wish I could go on the trip to the Merchant and Miners vessel, but my sister Marilyn wants me to go to the theatre with her as she has a pass. Here's hoping I win a pass.One of the old members who hasn't written for a long time,

P. S. My sister and I are saving again. Daddy Sunshine is always happy to hear from you. Your letter is most interesting. Why not write more like it? Didn't you receive a ticket recently? If not you should have.

A Story and Puzzle

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I have not much time, but I will write a puzzle and a story.
Here is the puzzle:As I was going to St. Ives I met a man with seven wives, every wife had seven sacks, every sack had seven cats, every cat had seven kits; kits, cats, sacks, and wives, how many were going to St. Ives?Here is the story: The Battle of Concord and Lexington
At the beginning of the Revolution, General Gage found that the Colonists were hiding ammunition at Concord. So he decided to march to Concord to seize it.But one man named Revere found out the General's plan. He told one of his friends to signal him from the belfry of the Old North Church.He staid, "If the British come by land, put up one lantern; if by sea, put up two."As Revere was watching, he saw one lantern and then another.The British were coming by sea.
So Revere warned the Colonists that the British were coming.
The Colonists awoke, snatched their guns and fired at the British, as they were going to Concord.The Colonists drove the British back, firing from every tree and wall. But the British received reinforcements and drove the Colonists back.This was the first battle of the Revolutionary War.
I would like to be one of thethirty to go to visit the Merchants and Miners ship.
Yours truly,
Billy Glynn.P.S. The answer to the puzzle is noe, the others were returning.You are welcome to come with the group on the visit to the ship.
Daddy Sunshine believes that Friday, April 22nd, is the best day for the trip. It will be early in the afternoon, sometime after 1 o'clock. However, he will have more to say in the column this week about the trip. He hopes all the children whom he has promised to take, get in touch with him before the end of the week.
Thanks Billy for the puzzle and story.RADIO

Trained Leadership
Outside Their Homes

MRS. NATHAN L. MILLER

"The girl outside her home," says Mrs. Nathan L. Miller, "is very often a different person from the girl at home. Then she needs a leader who can win her confidence and hold her interest, and such a leader, we realize now, must be trained."Mrs. Miller who is the wife of the former Governor of New York State, is chairman of the Personnel Division of the Girl Scouts, the division which is responsible for the training of the leaders."I think most psychologists agree now," said Mrs. Miller, "that the very close contact existing between mother and daughter frequently repels rather than encourages frankness. The girl is often afraid of falling below the standards set by her parents. She has no such fear with an outsider whom she respects but with whom she feels a greater sense of equality."The ideal Girl Scout leader, Mrs. Miller has found, combines the best features of a confidante, teacher and companion.
"But such a leader needs not only interest in girls but knowledge of how to handle them. Girl Scouting has a technique based on the best principles of modern progressive education, and this technique it imparts through its training courses."The first and most important of the Girl Scout training camps is at Camp Edith Macy, situated at Briarcliff, N. Y., which is under the direct control of Mrs.
Miller's division. This camp opens on May 11th and remains open until October 3rd. The standards set here are now being established in all other camps throughout the country."Girl Scouting," Mrs. Miller explained, "depends for its success to the greatest degree on the leader. Her task is educational in the very broadest sense of the word, and education is one of the things which we can not afford to disregard even in the hardest times."Two Children Run Into Autos
While At PlayTwo Medford children, while at play Sunday, ran into autos and one escaped all injury while the other was taken to the hospital for treatment for minor bruises and later was taken home.John J. Driscoll, 18 Renfrew street, operating an auto owned by Alice C. Driscoll of the same address, driving west on Windsor road, reported that Constance Della Russo, aged three, of 114 Windsor road, ran from the sidewalk into the rear right fender of his car and was knocked down.
He took the child home. She was not injured, he reported.Charles H. Freedman of 117 Porter street, Malden, operating his auto west on Central avenue at Wicklow avenue, reported that George DeVeau, aged six, of 229 Central avenue ran from the sidewalk into the right front fender of his car and was knocked down. He took the boy and his parents to the Malden hospital where the boy was treated for abrasions of both legs. Later he was taken home.

Peeps at Democratic Hope

Here are three interesting pictorial studies of Governor Franklin D.
Roosevelt of New York, recorded by the Candid camera, when the stardom of the Boy Scout Foundation for the Presidency attended the annual meeting of the Boy Scout Foundation at New York. The Governor is shown at left in an attitude of intense concentration. Center, he faces his camera interviewer, and at right he engages in the very human act of lighting a cigarette—even as you or I.

In Bureau At Medlin's HomePreston A. Medlin, 8 Brookings street, reported to police last night that someone had entered his home and taken $128 in cash.
Special Officer Kane investigated.
The method of entering the house proved a mystery, for no visible marks of entrance having been gained were found. The cash was in a bureau drawer in Medlin's bedroom and nothing but the cash was taken. The money was in small bills.

Victory for Mother

Seven-year-old "Dolly" McDonald, of Philadelphia, held to a $3,000,000 estate, is shown in the arms of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Stuart, with whom, the court has ruled, the child shall remain. The court ruling ended a bitter quarrel which has been in progress since the child's grandmother, Mrs.
Zaida McDonald, brought suit to remove "Dolly" from her mother's custody.

Jackson College Picks Council HeadsThe most important of the Jackson College annual elections are to take place today, when the leaders of the Student Council for 1932-1933 are to be elected. Announcements, however will not be made until the awards ceremony Junior Day, May 7.Candidates for president of the council, the highest honors, are Miss Eileen Campion of Ware and Miss R. Wan Lowery, New London, Conn.Miss Campion has been president of her class since her freshman year, has been a member of the varsity hockey and basketball teams, as well as a college tennis champion. She is also vice president of the Student Council now.Miss Lowery, who has also distinguished herself in sports, is a member of the Parahellenic Council, president of the Chi Omega Sorority, and a member of Student Council.Candidates for the vice presidency are Miss Elizabeth Berry, Winchester and Miss Marion Glennie, North Andover. The secretary-treasurer will be either Miss Mildred Carley, North Attleboro, or Miss Wilhelmina Harris, So.
Dartmouth.Arlington Theatre HitsBoth the Regent and Capitol theatres in Arlington are offering extraordinary attractions to patrons this week. Their bookings call for pictures which have proven without exception to be box-office successes.At the Capitol the feature picture is "Emma," starring Marie Dressler, while the co-feature is "The Gay Diplomat," a delightfully new talkie.Another attraction which is coming here soon is Constance Bennett's film success, "Lady with a Past."Constance Bennett looks her loveliest and gives the best performance of her career in "Lady With a Past," the RKO Pathe screen version of Harriet Henry's famous novel.Dazzling gowns—seventeen, to be exact—direct from Paris are worn by the screen's best dressed star, Miss Bennett's wardrobe is a fashion show in itself with appeal to men as well as women.Starting with one of the best stories ever assigned to her, Miss Bennett was given a bit director, a sterling supporting cast and an exceedingly lavish production all resulting in excellent entertainment."Lady With a Past" is an ultramodern comedy on the sophisticated side, with just enough romance to add dash and flavor.
The characters are human and speak brilliant lines which ring true for all their wittiness, the situations are unique and amusing and the theme is of fundamental appeal.The story relates a society girl's adventurous evolution from wall flower to charmer in international settings. The action starts in New York, where Venice Muir, a member of a fashionable younger set, sees herself passed up by the men who prefer her no more beautiful but gayer girl friends. Popularity continues to elude her until she goes to Paris and falls under the teaching of a dashing gigolo. Under his expert tutelage, she begins to acquire beaux and a past. It is this past which makes her a heroine in the eyes of her here-before indifferent New York friends, including a certain young man whom the girl believes is destined to marry her.

Mystery Play At Tufts On Apr. 14-15

(Special to the Medford Mercury)
"Who Killed Cock Robin?" will be decided once and for all by the Tufts College Players on Thursday and Friday at the Jackson Gymnasium stage at 8:15 p. m. There have been in the past many convincing solutions some at variance with the old poem, but when "Cock Robin" is shown to the audience all doubts as to the real solution of this weighty mystery will be swept away by the deadly logic of Elmer Rice and Philip Barry, who wrote this mystifying and amusing play.

You will suspect first one, then the other, until your brains will be caught up in a whirl of suspicion; when suddenly you will realize you have followed a lot of false trails and the identity of the real murderer is revealed.

On account of the demands of the production, the group of Tufts players is rehearsing with unflagging zeal under the direction of Prof. W. Northrop Morse's unyielding insistence on bringing out the full value of every line and situation.

Over fifty members of the college are working to make this final play the crowning achievement of the year.

L. Murray Shipp, '35, of 180 Brooks street, West Medford is making his first appearance in Tufts dramatics with an important role in this play. E. Marjorie Wood, '32, of 37 Forest street, Medford, is lending her usual excellent supervision to the stage work, which is for "Cock Robin," a very important factor, involving the preparation of very interesting and difficult scenes. Miss Wood, who is a member of Pen Point and Pretzels, is also doing publicity work for the play. Miss Josephine J. Wardrobe, of 310 Lawrence road, Medford, who has been very active in all dramatic productions since coming to Tufts, is for this play, assisting with costumes, which are of the 18th century, demanding the finest execution.

The presentation is to take place on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, but they will be ushered in by a high school performance on Wednesday night, to which are coming representatives from Medford, Somerville, Winchester, Arlington, Stoneham, and Rindge Tech. This practice was an established custom at Tufts a few years ago, but for several reasons, has been omitted the past few years, and is now being resumed for the benefit of those students in the high schools who are interested in the drama.

Women Guests Today First Nat'l Stores

Today is "Medford Day" at the food base of the First National Stores Inc. Three organizations of Medford women, by arrangement, are making food tours of the 17-acre plant. They are the Medford Women's Club, party arranged by Mrs. Charles T. Walker, 44 Emory street; Ladies' Auxiliary, Medford Hillside Universalist church, in charge of Mrs. Albert C. Allen, 47 Whitman street, Somerville, and the Ladies' club of the Otis Street Methodist Episcopal church, arranged by Mrs. A. Louise Lane, of 28 Cushing street.

Each of the three tours was separately planned. Each group, when received by the First National people, was conducted by special guides through the bread bakery, cake bakery, beverage department, meat plant, coffee roasting, mayonnaise packing, and other departments.

These inspection tours of the First National base, the ladies were told, have become of such interest that hundreds of applications for visits have been received from women's organizations. The company's visitation schedule is filled and no more dates are being assigned at present. The Medford groups arranged some time ago for their visits of today.
